Workshop: Co-counseling: undoing the effects of oppression (additional fee)
Caroline New, Bath Spa University

"Try a practical introduction to co-counseling, which will address the liberation issues of the participants. We will note what oppressed (and oppressor) groups we belong to, and talk in pairs or small groups about what this has meant for our lives. For oppression to continue, members of oppressor groups have also to be hurt. We will explore our common interest in ending oppression."-Caroline New
