

CICA

Dear Colleagues,

We would like to inform that the 37th CICA (International Conference on Conflict and Aggression) will take place in Zielona Góra, in the north west of Poland, relatively near Berlin, from 22 to 25 June 2014.

The CICA aims to study the phenomena of aggression and conflict solutions through an integrated, comprehensive, and interdisciplinary approach that considers both biological and psycho-socio-cultural factors.

The conference will be a new opportunity to exchange our ideas on the main issues in the broad field of Conflict and Aggression. It is open not only to all scientists working on the study of the relationship between brain and aggression, but also to all scholars interested in how to deal with other close behaviors, such as violence, terrorism, peace, and conflict at their different levels, from the internal to the international ones, from an interdisciplinary perspective.

Even if the main topic would be Developmental and Social Conditions of Conflict and Aggression, any other topic on conflict and aggression may be submitted for discussion.

It will also be a nice opportunity to networking, meeting old friends, new colleagues and young students from around the world, in an informal atmosphere, to discuss their current research, future directions and international development of our fields, as well as to cross fertilize different areas of interest. This explains why passive attendance is also most welcome.

Submission of papers and early registration will open from December 1st 2013, to April 1st 2014. We offer special prices for students and accompanying people.
