

Announcing the 53 Annual Residential Group Relations Conference in the Tavistock Tradition July 21-26 2017, Loyola University New Orleans

Link: www.leadershipakrice.org

Jointly sponsored by the A K Rice Institute for the study of social systems and the Tavistock Institute, this is a 6 day highly immersive exploration of the dynamics of groups, the individuals who create them and the nested social systems that interact in often covert or unconscious manners. The title this year is Leadership, Authority and Otherness: The Art of Working Through Difference.

A group relations conference offers an opportunity to examine - as a microcosm - the systemic forces that are impacting us as individuals and as members of numerous groups and identities.

Join a diverse membership from the U.S. and abroad as we explore the seen and unseen world together through creativity, awareness and curiosity.

Please follow the link for detailed information about the conference.