

Call for Papers

Association for Moral Education 42nd Annual Conference

8–11th December 2016

Harvard Graduate School of Education, Cambridge, MA, USA

Conference Theme

Civic engagement: a cultural revolution?

The expanding definitions of ‘civic’ participation, their intersections with ethics, and the implications for education

The challenges and innovations in civic engagement in and beyond formal education are gaining worldwide attention. There are interesting links, synergies and dialogues among civics, ethics and moral development, including the significance of new media.

Submissions are welcome from scholars, students and practitioners across the many disciplines that contribute to the study and practice of moral and civic education, including psychology, education, sociology, philosophy, interdisciplinary, cultural studies, among others.

Submission deadline: March 14, 2016

For submission details, and/or to register for the conference, please go to the conference website: <http://ameconference2016.org/>