

Dear Sir / Madam,

We are delighted to be featuring the work of two more of our authors in this month's Meet our Authors campaign, which allows you to hear from both established scholars and those who are just beginning their academic careers.

Please click below to read the thoughts of Professor Ron D. Petite and Dr Dimitrios Kassis, and to receive a 50% discount on their titles.

This month's authors...

Ron D. Petite serves as Dean of the Honors Institute at Bryan College, USA, where he is a tenured, full professor of Politics and Government. A retired U.S. Army Colonel and graduate of the Virginia Military Institute, he also served as a technical advisor for 20th Century Fox on the Academy Award-winning film, Patton. To read his thoughts, please click here.

Dimitrios Kassis holds a PhD from the Faculty of English Studies of the National and Kapodistrian University of Athens, and his academic interests are connected with travel literature, translation and language studies. Please click here to read his thoughts.

Happy reading!

Christine

Christine von Gall
Deputy Editor
Cambridge Scholars Publishing
christine.von-gall@cambridgescholars.com

Find us on    