

Subject: [June 9-10 – University of Cambridge] Multidisciplinary Approaches to Social Change, Protest, and Political Mobilisation - Deadline Extended

**Apologies for Cross-posting****

Following a number of requests, we have extended the deadline for the submission of abstracts. The new deadline is May, 8th. The new deadline does not affect the established timeline for those who have already submitted an abstract. Further information about the conference are available below.

INSPR Org. Committee

Multidisciplinary Approaches to Social Change, Protest, and Political Mobilisation

We are pleased to invite you to the 3rd INSPR Conference at the department of Sociology, University of Cambridge. The conference will be held on June 9th-10th, 2016. Keynote addresses will be announced shortly.

Details: <http://inspr.eu/event-info/inspr3/>

Registration & Payment: <http://inspr2016.eventbrite.co.uk>

The Conference

Social movements play an important role in political debates across the globe. From an academic point of view, the study of political mobilisation and social change is subject to an extraordinary predisposition to cross-disciplinary exchange. Our understanding of the phenomena we study is subordinate to our capacity to build theoretical paths among the different disciplines.

Continuing with INSPR's mission, the aims of this two-day conference are to explore political mobilisation from a variety of academic perspectives and to further develop links between disciplines. We seek a broad range of contributions, including (but not limited to); sociology, law, psychology, politics, economics, cultural studies, history, geography, philosophy, literature, and film studies.

Proposals will be selected on the basis of their academic merit. Lines of research that interrogate different perspectives are highly appreciated, although excellent work conducted within the boundary of a single discipline is still suitable for this meeting. Topics may include:

- Past and present collective actions
- Social and political theory
- Motivation, mobilisation, or outcomes
- Methodology
- Macro- and micro- processes
- Art in and from protest
- Legal or economic implications and considerations
- Other topics relevant to social protest research

Submissions & Deadlines

To submit your proposal, please send an email to inspr2016@gmail.com. Registration deadline (for attendees and speakers) is May 31st. Places are limited and we encourage attendees to register as soon as possible. The Early Bird registration deadline is May 11th.

Sponsors

The conference is sponsored by:

Newton Advanced Fellowship from the British Academy (<http://www.britac.ac.uk/index.cfm>)

The Interdisciplinary Network for Social Protest Research (www.inspr.eu)

The School of Psychology, University of Kent (<https://www.kent.ac.uk/psychology/>)

The Center for Economic and Social Research, İstanbul Kemerburgaz University, Turkey
(www.kemerburgaz.edu.tr)

The Department of Sociology, University of Cambridge (<http://www.sociology.cam.ac.uk/>)