

Felipe Vilanova

Web Resources Coordinator

Felipe received BA from the Universidade Federal do Rio Grande do Sul, under the supervision of Prof Silvia Helena Koller and is currently a MSc. Candidate at the Psychology Post-Graduation Program of the Pontificia Universidade Católica do Rio Grande do Sul, under the supervision of Prof Angelo Brandelli Costa. Research experience: Worked as a field researcher at the Institute of Economic Research (FIPE) in Brazil in 2014. Worked on undergraduate research projects about authoritarianism and prejudice against sexual and gender diversity from 2014 to 2018. Fellowship member of the 2018-2019 Summer Academy Committee of the International Society of Political Psychology (ISPP) and Reviewer of the 2019 Student Research Award of the Association for Psychological Science (APS). Current main research interests are authoritarianism, corruption perception, and corrupt intention. Future career aspirations: Internationalize Latin-American scientific production.

Short bio for Twitter: Felipe received BA from the Universidade Federal do Rio Grande do Sul, under the supervision of Prof Silvia Helena Koller and is currently a MSc. Candidate at the Psychology Post-Graduation Program of the Pontificia Universidade Católica do Rio Grande do Sul, under the supervision of Prof Angelo Brandelli Costa.