

Subject: "Psychology, Biology, & Political Attitudes" Conference - Call for Papers

Dear colleagues,

We would like to draw your attention to a small conference we are hosting at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln on April 3-4, 2015 on the topic of "Psychology, Biology, and Political Attitudes." The conference will consist of two keynote presentations and a number of shorter presentations focused on new empirical research in this exciting interdisciplinary area. We are inviting submissions from psychologists, political scientists, neuroscientists, and any other interested scholars. Submissions will be reviewed and selected speakers will be notified by December. Travel, food, and lodging expenses will be covered for individuals selected to participate.

Abstracts should be submitted by November 1, 2014, using the online submission portal: <http://sites.google.com/site/2015hendrickssymposium>.

Any questions or comments can be directed to Ingrid Haas at ihaas2@unl.edu.

Please feel free to share this information with any interested colleagues.

Best,

Ingrid Haas, John Hibbing, & Kevin Smith
