International Society of Political Psychology

Who We Are

ISPP is an interdisciplinary organization representing ALL fields of inquiry concerned with exploring the relationships between political and psychological processes. Members include psychologists, political scientists, psychiatrists, historians, sociologists, economists, anthropologists, as well as journalists, government officials and others. The Society is also international, with members from all regions of the world: the Americas, Europe, Asia, the Middle East, and Africa.

2012 Conference Information

The 2012 Annual Conference will take place July 6th–9th, 2012 in Chicago, IL.

The conference theme is “Identity Politics and Politicized Identities: Political Psychology in Times of Contention”. For more information about the conference and the Call for Papers go to the Conference Site HERE.

ISPP Journal: Political Psychology

Political Psychology is an interdisciplinary journal dedicated to the analysis of the interrelationships between psychological and political processes. The field draws on diverse disciplinary sources including cultural and psychological anthropology, cognitive psychology, clinical psychology, economics, history, international relations, philosophy, political science, political theory, psychology of personality, social psychology, and sociology. In addition to substantive scholarly articles, Political Psychology publishes analysis and commentary on important issues in the field in the Forum section, bibliographic essays, book reviews, and a News and Notes section.

The journal Political Psychology is now housed at the Lauder School of Government, Diplomacy and Strategy at IDC-Herzliya, Israel. The first issue of the new team is expected in February 2012, and will explore Political Psychology: Where Do We Go From Here? View Journal HERE.
