

Meet Our Authors September 2019

This month's Meet Our Authors campaign features two scholars who have addressed literary analysis in their work. From Poland, Bartłomiej Biegajło considers totalitarianism in literature and translations. From Canada, Emeritus Professor Nils Clausson has added to his long list of books dealing with the great figures of English literature, with a study of Arthur Conan Doyle's fiction.

Please click below to read the thoughts of Bartłomiej Biegajło and Nils Clausson, and to receive a 50% discount on their latest books.

This month's authors...

Bartłomiej Biegajło is a researcher working within the field of translation studies. To learn about his book, and to read his thoughts on publishing with us, please click here.

Nils Clausson is Professor Emeritus at the University of Regina, Canada, where he taught from 1984 to 2014, specializing in Victorian and early twentieth-century English literature. His book on the fiction of Arthur Conan Doyle was shortlisted for the 2019 H.R.F. Keating Award. To learn about his book, and to read his thoughts on publishing with us, please click here.

Happy reading!